

Have you heard about the parent support group ASM is hosting?

No but it would be great to meet with other parents who get it!

Parent support is where parents, grandparents and caregivers of individuals with ASD can get together, feel supported and get great ideas from each other.

Is it just parents talking or will they have speakers or other individuals coming in to present?

At the first meeting Kalyn Falk - author of "Mother of the Year and other Elusive Awards – Misadventures in Autism" will be doing a short talk.

Parents will also have a chance to talk in groups. ASM plans to have speakers or presentations every other month.

Sounds great!!
When is the first evening and where is it?

Thursday February 6th
7:00 – 9:00 pm
